3/20/18 UC CalFresh Town Hall Webinar, 12:30-2:00pm
The topic of the March Town Hall is PEARs Indirect Activity Module Overview. The UC CalFresh State Office will provide an overview of the Indirect Module in PEARs as well as providing links to tip sheets for PEARs users. We will provide follow-up information on the newly released demographic feature for public schools, and the updated PEARs surveys for FFY 2018 (FBC/PSSC pre and post surveys). The State Office will also be providing UC CalFresh programmatic and administrative updates.

In preparation of the webinar, we want to bring to your attention the addition of a new tip sheet and the update of another tip sheet on the UC CalFresh website. Please have the tip sheets available to your staff during the webinar to allow them to follow along with the overview and updates.
- Program Activity Tip Sheet—Updated with new demographic information and adding sites for schools.
- PEARs Surveys Tip Sheet—New

We are also developing an Indirect Activity Tip Sheet that will be posted on the UC CalFresh website by Monday, March 19, the day before the Town Hall.

Connect with EatFresh.org!
The creators of www.eatfresh.org would love to talk with partners who are actively working with youth. Eatfresh.org was built with a adult audience in mind, but they are currently exploring ways to make this a useful online nutrition resource for youth. Please email monica@leahspantrysf.org if you are interested in sharing your 2 cents.
You will be invited to schedule a one-on-one conversation at your convenience. If you wish, you can also learn more about Leah’s Pantry’s free trainings and tools for engaging clients in healthy eating. Participating partners will receive a thank you gift including cookbooks, EatFresh.org materials and other Leah’s Pantry goodies.

UC CalFresh Success Stories
Success stories from your FFY 2018 UC CalFresh participants can be shared through the online data entry portal: https://ucanr.edu/survey/survey.cfm?surveynumber=22089.

“This class has really educated me on nutrition and how to make better choices for my family. I have already implemented changes in my family at home during meal times by trying some of the recipes we have been shown, as well as cutting back on buying juice and sugary drinks that my family doesn’t need; I also am planning on discussing our need to cut out fast food and limit that maybe to birthdays or special occasions and helping my children understand it is better for all of our health.”
— Eating Smart, Being Active Participant, Fresno County

“This class has helped out a lot in many ways. My son who didn’t like many foods has tried new things (healthy) and has loved it. I now look carefully at labels when shopping and also include more veggies in all our meals. And now, I prepare my breakfast earlier (a night before) to make sure I eat breakfast everyday. Thank you.”
— Plan, Shop, Save and Cook Participant, San Mateo County

Welcome New UC CalFresh Staff!
This feature is to introduce and welcome new staff to UC CalFresh. If you have new staff, please send a brief introduction and photo to Lindsay Hamasaki at lmhamasaki@ucdavis.edu.

Melissa (Abbi) Marrs, Community Education Specialist 2, UCCE San Luis Obispo & Santa Barbara Counties
UC CalFresh in San Luis Obispo & Santa Barbara Counties welcomes Community Education Specialist 2, Abbi Marrs, to their team. Abbi grew up in Goleta, CA with parents who enjoyed gardening and encouraged time in the outdoors. She has an associate degree in Liberal Arts from Allen Hancock College, and has worked with the California State Parks since 1995. After a cancer diagnosis and a full year of treatment, the role of nutrition in overall health became more important to her and she started a job as Garden Education Manager with Santa Barbara City College and the Orfalea Foundation in 2012. This expanded her love of gardening, and along with experience and great training opportunities, she found her way to the UC CalFresh Team! Abbi’s work includes supporting both school and community gardens and coordinating the UC Garden Nutrition Extender program. Abbi hopes to further the garden and nutrition education movement among adults and children in the community for a healthier lifestyle. When she’s not working, you’ll find her out running half marathons, chasing down the race bling! Abbi can be reached at: mbmarrs@ucdavis.edu.

UC ANR Staff Appreciation and Recognition (STAR) Program
Nominate staff for STAR Awards, Deadline: March 29, 2018
The following announcement was originally sent via email through UC ANR Updates on 2/7/2018.
Nominations are being accepted for the ANR Staff Appreciation and Recognition (STAR) program for the fiscal year 2017-18. The STAR program is your opportunity to celebrate and reward the great contributions of ANR’s people. The program provides cash awards to eligible staff in recognition of outstanding achievement. Managers may nominate individuals and teams demonstrating exceptional performance, creativity, organizational abilities, work success and teamwork. ANR staff in PSS and MSP titles, as well as members of the Clerical Unit (CX), are eligible to be nominated for cash awards. Nomination forms and program guidelines are attached. UC ANR has streamlined the nomination form this year to simplify the process.

STAR Awards will be celebrated during an ANR recognition event at the Second Street building in Davis on June 6, 2018. Send your nominations to jlazulai@ucanr.edu. The deadline for submission is Thursday, March 29, 2018.

The purpose of the STAR program is to recognize and reward outstanding staff individual and team performance within Agriculture and Natural Resources. Recipients receive cash awards as well as recognition. Under the STAR plan, managers can recognize, acknowledge and reward staff employees for exceptional performance or significant contributions related to and supportive of individual, departmental, divisional, or organizational goals and objectives.
Nominations are due March 29, 2018. Please find the nomination form, STAR award guidelines & restrictions and local plan attached. Read announcement on the ANR Update page.

Save the Date: Webinar—School Food: Too Good to Waste, March 27, 2018, 1:00-2:00pm PST
Americans waste enough food every day to fill a 90,000 seat football stadium. Approximately one-third of all food is wasted at the retail and consumer levels. While research has shown that food wasted by children is similar to the rest of the U.S. population, there are many ways schools can reduce food waste and teach students about the impact it has on the environment and in their community. Join the Smarter Lunchrooms Movement of California to discuss Smarter Lunchrooms Movement principles and practices to help increase consumption of nutritious foods and reduce waste. SLM of CA will be sharing current laws and mandates as well as best practices around the state. All attendees are welcome. To register for this webinar, please visit: https://cc.readytalk.com/r/i2jbnh1kmg6&eom. Pre-registration for this webinar is required. Please contact MaryAnn Mills (mamills@ucdavis.edu) if you have any questions.

Upcoming UC CalFresh Trainings
Save the Date: CATCH Early Childhood (Pre/K) Training Academy, April 3-5, 2018
It is time to save the dates for the next CATCH Early Childhood (Pre/K) Training Academy: April 3-5, 2018. Please also note that this training will be located in Riverside. During this training, you will get active and learn practical skills necessary to implement physical activity into the UC CalFresh Nutrition Education Program using the CATCH Early Childhood Program. Please see below for more details. Registration information for the CATCH Early Childhood (Pre/K) Training Academy was sent via email to all UC CalFresh Advisors, Managers and Supervisors on Friday, 2/9/2018. The deadline to register for this training has been extended to Tuesday, March 6th.

UC CalFresh in Action!

UC CalFresh and 4-H Partner to Develop a Generation of Student Chefs, UCCE Butte County Cluster

Over the past 20 years, the frequency of family dinners has significantly declined even though research has shown that children who share family dinners three or more times per week are less likely to be overweight and more likely to perform better academically, eat healthier foods, and have better relationships with their parents. Thus, educating students on how to choose, prepare, and cook healthy foods is a priority for the UC CalFresh Nutrition Education Program (NEP) and the 4-H Youth Development Program (YDP) in Sutter and Yuba Counties.

UC CalFresh partnered with 4-H to implement Cooking Academy, a Teens-as-Teachers (TAT) program. The TAT model provides extended learning opportunities for teens to learn, lead, and serve their community. Five teens attended a Statewide TAT training in Davis and seven teens participated in a full-day training hosted locally by UC CalFresh and 4-H. These trainings aimed to educate teens on the basic skills of food preparation, selection, safety, and science, as well as to prepare them to work with elementary school students. During the trainings, teens learned culinary techniques, behavior guidance strategies, and how to prepare each recipe featured in the Cooking 101 curriculum. Each Cooking Academy consisted of seven weeks of cooking and food safety instruction where youth (ages 6-11) had opportunities to learn basic nutrition information, try new foods, and safely prepare meals using recipes that incorporated foods grown in the school’s edible garden.

As a result of participating in the program, youth willingness to try new foods increased. When asked how often they tried new foods, 8.3% of youth initially said always, 50% said sometimes, and 29.2% said once in a while. After participating in the program, 26.3% of youth said they always try new foods, 21.1% said often, 36.8% said sometimes, and 29.2% said once in a while. Initially, 46% of youth considered themselves to be extremely good cooks after participating in the program, this increased to 74%, yielding a difference of +28%. In addition 42% of youth initially reported that they were able to chop vegetables extremely well with a knife, which increased to 90% after participating in the program. Teens who participated as TAT in this program increased their overall self-confidence, ability to act as mentors, and ability to speak before a group. After participating in the program, 66.7% of TAT strongly agreed and 33.3% agreed that they learned what makes up a balanced diet and which foods they should eat each day. Additionally, 66.7% of TAT reported that they eat more fruits and vegetables, drink less soda, and consume more water after participating in the program. All teens that participated in the program either strongly agreed (20%) or agreed (80%) that their families have purchased healthier food because of participating in the program. UC CalFresh Imperial County Empowering Youth as Leaders, UCCE Imperial County

Childhood obesity is a problem that affects many in the Imperial County—40.9% of 5th graders and 45% of 7th graders are overweight or obese. Fitness levels are low—only 13.9% of 5th graders and 23.6% of 7th graders meet all of the fitness standards (ED-Data, 2018). Imperial County is known for its desert location with little access to indoor recreational facilities and highly accessible fast food restaurants. Empowering youth as leaders to address the issues affecting the health of their families will create change in Imperial County.

The UC CalFresh Nutrition Education Program in Imperial County and Meadows Union School District partnered on a pilot Youth-Led Participatory Action Research (YPAR) Project targeting middle school aged youth in the After-School Education & Safety Program (ASES). The Public Health Institute Center for Wellness and Nutrition and UC Davis Center for Regional Change provided ongoing technical assistance, documentation, and training throughout the project. Weekly meetings took place with a UC CalFresh Nutrition Educator, who was the adult ally leading 10 young people through the YPAR Stepping Stones curriculum. This process led to youth voice and empowerment. The group named themselves the Helping Hands, Active Knights (HHAK). HHAK identified problems that affected the health and wellness of their peers. The students chose to research the low physical activity levels of their 6th, 7th, and 8th-grade peers and then developed a nine-question survey. Sixty-one students participated in the survey. After analyzing the data, the group developed a PowerPoint presentation to showcase their findings to key stakeholders. Further, the HHAK students asked their administration for new physical activity equipment and a stencil project to help promote physical activity within Meadows Elementary School. The work has led to young people advocating for environmental change efforts within Meadows Elementary School.

This was the first project in Imperial County that empowered youth to use policy, systems, and environmental change strategies to create change within their school district. The YPAR program has led to a strong partnership between UC CalFresh and Meadows School District. It has opened the door for a more comprehensive approach to healthy eating and active living strategies. Meadows now has eight teachers extending CATCH PE, nutrition education, and garden enhanced nutrition education. The stencil project was completed in February and is reaching 488 students. The stencil project supports the efforts of providing more access to physical activity and connecting with the Smarter Lunchrooms Movement. Read full UC Delivers story.

2018 County Health Rankings Key Findings Report

Imagine a place where everyone has a fair and just chance to lead the healthiest life possible—communities with high quality schools, good paying jobs, access to healthy foods and quality health care, and affordable housing in safe environments. Imagine a place where differences in race, culture, and perspectives are not only tolerated, but are celebrated as fundamental to health and wellbeing. Imagine that this is how we all experience our communities, regardless of where we live, the circumstances we were born into, or how we look. This is the vision of health equity. The County Health Rankings show that where we live matters to health. This year, we bring new analyses that show meaningful health gaps persist not only by place, but also among racial and ethnic groups. These gaps are largely the result of differences in opportunities in places where we live. And, these differences disproportionately affect people of color. Discriminatory practices and structural and institutional policies, such as unfair bank lending practices and property tax-based school funding formulas, contribute to the types of racial disparities illustrated in this report. Training Opportunities for SNAP-Ed Local Implementing Agencies

On behalf of the California Department of Social Services, the California Department of Public Health Nutrition Education and Obesity Prevention Branch, UC CalFresh, California Department of Aging, and Catholic Charities of California, we are pleased to announce upcoming SNAP-Ed trainings available to appropriate staff from SNAP-Ed state and local implementing agencies in California. Please visit the Training and Events Calendar for additional information and opportunities.

Go Further with Food for National Nutrition Month, March 2018

The following announcement was originally shared in the 3/6/18 edition of The Dirt from USDA’s Office of Community Food Systems.

Happy National Nutrition Month! This year, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics wants us to Go Further with Food! What does that mean? Simply put, make healthy food choices for every occasion. Start your morning off with a wholesome breakfast and make smart food choices throughout the day. Don’t forget about special events like a night out with friends or a family celebration—plan to have healthy options available for you to eat even during those times. Going further with food could also include, going local! Take the extra step to find the origin of your food and support the local farmers in your community. Spring is near and farmers markets are ready to sell fresh, local foods. Gear up for the spring bounty and find a farmers market near you!

Healthy Choices in Motion Online Training Module Now Available!

Learn how you can use the physical activity curriculum Healthy Choices in Motion with students in 4th through 6th grade! This curriculum, which can be used stand-alone or as part of the Shaping Healthy Choices Program, teaches students about key concepts of physical activity and how physical activity is important for overall health. The online training module, provided through the platform Open-Learning, includes a brief orientation to inquiry learning and an overview of each of the five modules, with videos demonstrating the physical activities involved. To access this training, please visit: https://www.openlearning.com/courses/healthy-choices-in-motion. For more information, please email Melanie Gerdes (magerdes@ucdavis.edu) or Anna Jones (anajones@ucdavis.edu).

New and Updated Nutrition Information Resources

The Department of Nutrition at UC Davis has a variety of nutrition information resources that you may be interested in. These include curricula, the quarterly newsletter Nutrition Perspectives as well as evidence-based nutrition info sheets on a variety of topics ranging from Gluten to the Dietary Guidelines to Phytochemicals. These resources can be found via the UC Davis Department of Nutrition website at: http://nutrition.ucdavis.edu/info/index.html. For more information, please email Anna Jones (anajones@ucdavis.edu).

ToP Accelerated Action Planning Trainings, Various Dates

These regional trainings were referenced briefly in the January 2018 Statewide LIA Training Flyer sent last week (from CASNAP-EdTraining email address). This training is open to any SNAP-Ed local leaders, program managers and team leaders, and aims to provide tools to lead small groups to create effective organization plans. Enrollment is limited and the time frame is approaching soon! Please see the attached flyer for more information. UC CalFresh educators should consult with their Advisor, Manager, and/or Supervisor before registering.

Register Now! Three Steps to Wellness Policy Implementation Success Workshop, Various Dates
Implementation of Local School Wellness Policies (LSWP) is most effective when aligned with district priorities and broader community needs. The Three Steps to Wellness Policy Implementation Success Workshop—brought to you by the California Local School Wellness Policy Collaborative—provides participants with key strategies for updating and implementing LSWP, and provides guidance for complying with assessment and administrative review processes. Attendees will learn key responsibilities and approaches to engage stakeholders at the district, school and community levels to achieve successful LSWP implementation. Workshop attendees will also take away tools and resources needed to measure success, and identify opportunities that support a whole child approach.

NCCOR Connect and Explore Webinar: Collaborating for Impact, March 29, 2018, 11:00am PT
The National Collaborative on Childhood Obesity Research (NCCOR) brings together the nation’s four largest childhood obesity research funders—National Institutes of Health (NIH), Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), and U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA)—in a public-private collaboration to accelerate progress in reducing childhood obesity. Since its launch in 2009, NCCOR has transformed the field of childhood obesity research through strategic initiatives, comprehensive tools for researchers, and innovative rapid-response funding mechanisms, among other efforts. To provide insights into its formation, operations, and accomplishments, NCCOR published two papers in a March theme issue of the American Journal of Preventive Medicine. The papers are accompanied by a commentary by senior leaders of NCCOR’s member organizations and an editorial by James Sallis, PhD, a member of NCCOR’s External Scientific Panel. A list of the papers and NCCOR’s 10 years of accomplishments can be found at: www.nccor.org/accomplishments. On March 29, NCCOR is hosting a Connect & Explore webinar “Collaborating for Impact: Lessons Learned from NCCOR.” The webinar will highlight the Collaborative’s approach to building the field of childhood obesity research, showcase aspects of the collaborative model and include a discussion on how to apply this approach to other complex health problems. Click here to register for the webinar. The event is free, but attendance is limited.

Save the Date: School and Community Garden Workshops: Light Bulbs to Garlic Bulbs, Various Dates and Locations

This two-day workshop is designed to provide participants with the knowledge, skills, and resources to plan, develop, and sustain an edible school or community garden. Day 1 is an all-day garden skills workshop at a SNAP-Ed garden site. In a train-the-trainer model, you will learn the skills you need to successfully grow food and pass that knowledge back to your own staff or communities. Day 2 is an all-day garden programming workshop, where you will learn how to develop and implement a sustainable garden program and how to incorporate it into other healthy community change efforts.

The University of California CalFresh Nutrition Education Program (UC CalFresh) is funded through a joint agreement among the U.S. Department of Agriculture/Food & Nutrition Service (USDA/FNS), the California Department of Social Services (CDSS) CalFresh and Nutrition Branch, and the University of California Cooperative Extension (UCCE). This material was produced by the University of California CalFresh Nutrition Education Program with funding from USDA SNAP, known in California as CalFresh (formerly food stamps). These institutions are equal opportunity providers and employers. CalFresh provides assistance to low-income households and can help buy nutritious foods for better health. For CalFresh information, call 1-877-847-3663.
