Building Long Lasting Partnerships

CFHL, UCCE Alameda has been providing programming for OUSD ECE Department for over 25 years.

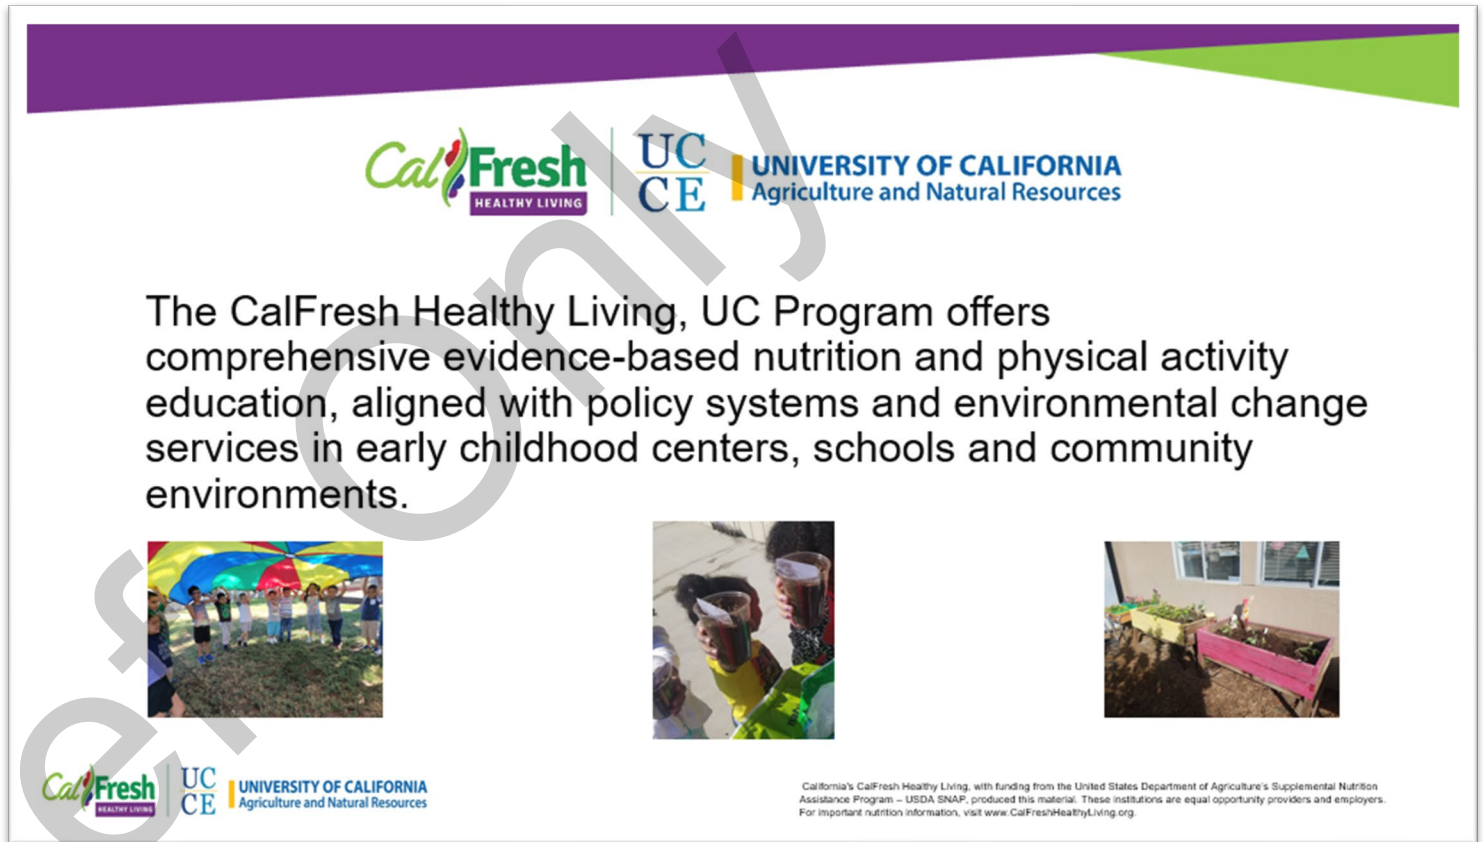

Recruiting and Training Extenders

Each summer, we are invited to present to all teacher during their scheduled Professional Development Day

(typically via Zoom now)

We provide:

1. Program Overview
2. Program Impact
3. Expectations and support

The flyer features a purple and green header. The CalFresh Healthy Living logo is on the left, and the UC CE University of California Agriculture and Natural Resources logo is on the right. The main text describes the program's focus on evidence-based nutrition and physical activity education. Below the text are three images: a group of people under a rainbow umbrella, two people holding smoothies, and a garden bed. The footer includes the logos and a small disclaimer about USDA SNAP funding.

CalFresh HEALTHY LIVING | UC CE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA Agriculture and Natural Resources

The CalFresh Healthy Living, UC Program offers comprehensive evidence-based nutrition and physical activity education, aligned with policy systems and environmental change services in early childhood centers, schools and community environments.

California's CalFresh Healthy Living, with funding from the United States Department of Agriculture's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program – USDA SNAP, produced this material. Providing Teacher Support is KEY to Success!

TEAMWORK MAKES THE DREAM WORK

Be FLEXIBLE, LISTEN and Promote Success!

Teachers know what works for them, our goal is to meet them where they're at.

Set them up for success with clear expectations and tools to support their efforts

Praise teachers! A kind word goes a LONG way!

Provide incentives! Teachers LOVE goodies!

Highlight their efforts in a Teacher Newsletter. Incentives other teachers to step up their game!

Evaluation and Feedback

- Annually we ask teachers for feedback in order to help guide program improvement using the Teacher Observation Survey (TOT)

“I feel that it helps the teachers as well as the students continue their awareness of healthy eating, exercise and lifestyle.”

Recruiting the Extenders

- Principal/Administration Meetings
- Teacher Enrollment Meetings
- Extender Expectations Doc.

Extender Program Overview:

- The CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE Shasta Cluster School Program has transitioned to a more integrated and comprehensive approach that has increased sustainability, incorporated curriculum fidelity, and involved PSE activities in order to achieve our goal to "Build essential knowledge and skills that will lead to healthy lifestyles and promote policy, system and environmental changes to support the sustainable change in behavior"
- CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE Objectives:
 - Increase consumption of healthy foods and beverages
 - Increase physical activity
 - Support sustainable, evidence-based policy, systems, and environmental changes that support healthy lifestyles and community wellness

Benefits for Schools:

- Empowers Teachers to be the health advocates in classrooms and communities.
- Builds capacity for Teachers and Staff by providing FREE nutrition and physical activity education training.
- Provides Teachers with research and evidenced-based curricula that is state approved and aligns with common core, math and science standards.
- Program will include a sustainable multi-level and multi-component intervention to reinforce strategies that support healthy youth and adult lifestyles and community wellness.

Extender Program:

- Support Teachers that have a strong desire to learn and teach our curriculum by providing curriculum training, technical support, and lesson modeling.
- CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE provides teachers with grade appropriate, evidence based, state approved nutrition curriculum (program flyers available upon request).
- Depending on curriculum length and teacher involvement CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE will provide 4 food tastings and 2 lessons demonstrations.
- For all other lessons, CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE Educator will drop off "No-Prep" lessons kits and additional food tastings that will be delivered by extender.
- Educators will support ongoing nutrition and physical activity initiatives/priorities, school events and PSE approaches that align with our program goals.
- We can enroll (and dis-enroll) a teacher at any time during the school year depending on teacher participation.

No-Prep Lesson Kits:

- 1 drop off per teacher, per month, standardized across program
- Kits Contain:
 - Lesson Materials and Step-by-Step Instructions (will vary per grade level)
 - Tasting, Teacher Tasting Tool, Harvest of the Month
 - Take-home activity/Family Newsletter

Extender Expectations:

- Completion of the monthly No-Prep Lessons Kits (Training and Technical Assistance offered by to CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE Educators)
- Completion of the monthly tastings (This will require minor preparation of the food i.e.: rinsing, cutting, etc. instructions will be provided)
- Completion of the Teacher Tasting Tool (TTT) alongside the monthly tasting and returned to CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE Educator
- Completion of the Teacher Observation Tool (TOT). This is only done in May and collected by to CalFresh Healthy Living, UCCE Educator
- Completion of the Program Activity Tracking Tool. This is done after every lesson is completed.

Happy Healthy Me: Nutrition and literacy curriculum that helps 4-6 year old children become aware of food and nutrition by reading storybooks with food-related themes and then participating in hands-on nutrition education and physical activities.

MY AMAZING BODY

My Amazing Body: (1st gr.)

Nutrition curriculum for students to learn about the amazing things their body can do and explore how they can keep their amazing bodies healthy through eating nutrient-rich foods, getting plenty of exercise and sleep, and practicing good hygiene.

UP4it: (4th and up)

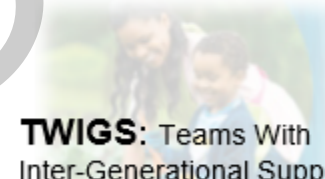

This field-tested curriculum is designed to help youth aged 8-12 to build healthy habits for life.

GOOD FOR ME AND YOU

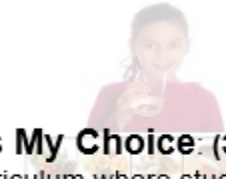

Good For Me and You: (2nd gr.)

Nutrition curriculum that allows students to explore what is good for a healthy body and lifestyle, study My Plate, and introduce the concept of nutrients and what they do for their bodies. They learn that eating breakfast every day, drinking healthy beverages, exercising and keeping food safe to eat all are good for their body.

TWIGS: Teams With Inter-Generational Support (K-8) focuses on gardening and how the foods we grow are used in our bodies as building blocks and energy providers.

IT'S MY CHOICE... EAT RIGHT! BE ACTIVE!

It's My Choice: (3rd gr.) Nutrition curriculum where students examine the key nutrients provided by each of the five food groups of MyPlate and learn how to make healthy choices. They identify how vitamins, minerals, carbohydrates, and proteins provide the essential building blocks needed for good health.

Extenders are trained through demonstration of 1st lesson by CFHL educator and review of grade level curriculum during the initial school site visit

Best Practices For Extenders in Stanislaus County

Elizabeth Miranda

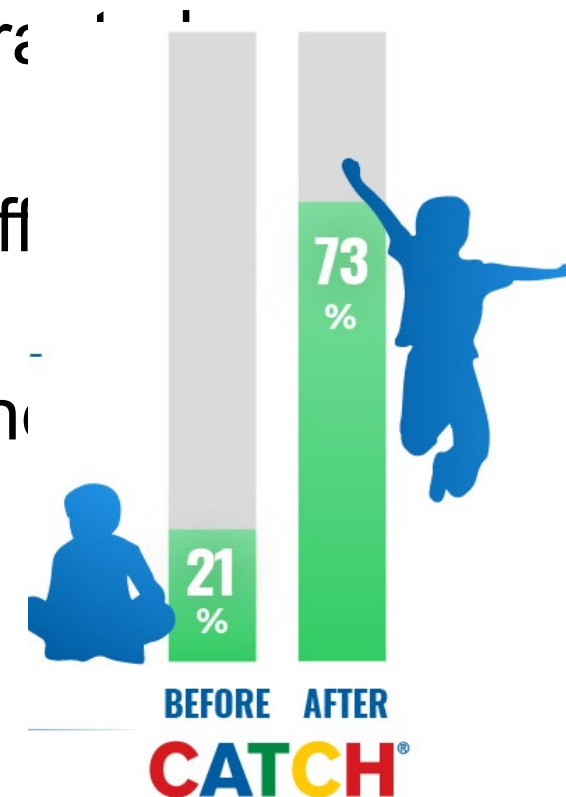

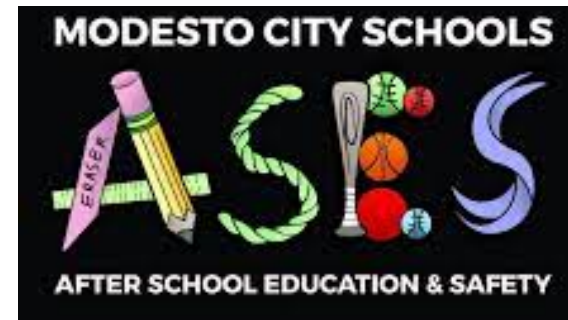

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
Agriculture and Natural Resources

Describe how you recruit your extenders

- Site coordinator for ASES after school program contracted with US
- 3 sites in Modesto Unified School District and 40 staff members needed to be trained in CATCH
- Held training on a Holiday there was no school but the district was open

Describe how you recruit your extenders (cont.)

- 3 additional colleagues wanted staff trained in CATCH as well
- 3 months later a Saturday training was held for 20 staff
- 3 new sites added all in the same district totaling 6 schools 1-6

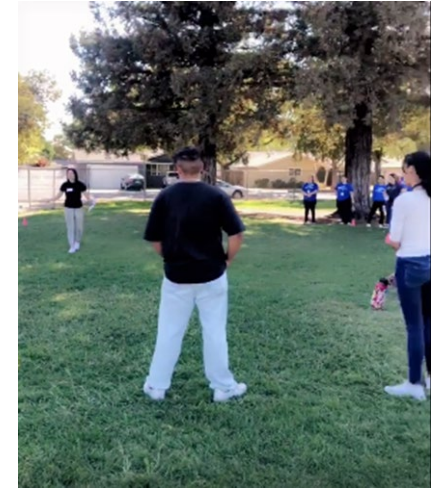

Describe how you train your extenders

- Constant communication with coordinators in order to meet their needs
- Held on days ASES had scheduled for staff training
- Made folders with forms and Power Point slides ahead of time
- 3 Hour Training
- Communicated with coordinator in making sure there was a space for activities and a space for the presentation

Describe how you train your extenders (cont.)

How do you track extender work and follow up with them?

- The goal is to make it easy on the Extender/Coordinator
- Held meetings before the trainings to explain the importance of data collection and process
- Emailed Extender Teacher Enrollment Forms to each coordinator with clear concise instructions

- Currently meeting with extenders quarterly to collect minutes via phone call or email in order to fill out the CATCH Reporting Form
- Cross check school district calendar to make sure lessons, dates, and minutes are corre

How successful are your efforts to sustain work with extenders?

- Overall staff has been adopting curriculum well participating in CATCH at least 3 times a week enhancing curriculum competence
- Having an organized a system that makes data collection easy and straightforward
- Provide future trainings for new staff regardless of high turnover on days that work for all sites involved

Extender Models in CalFresh Healthy Living, University of California

A Best Practices Guide

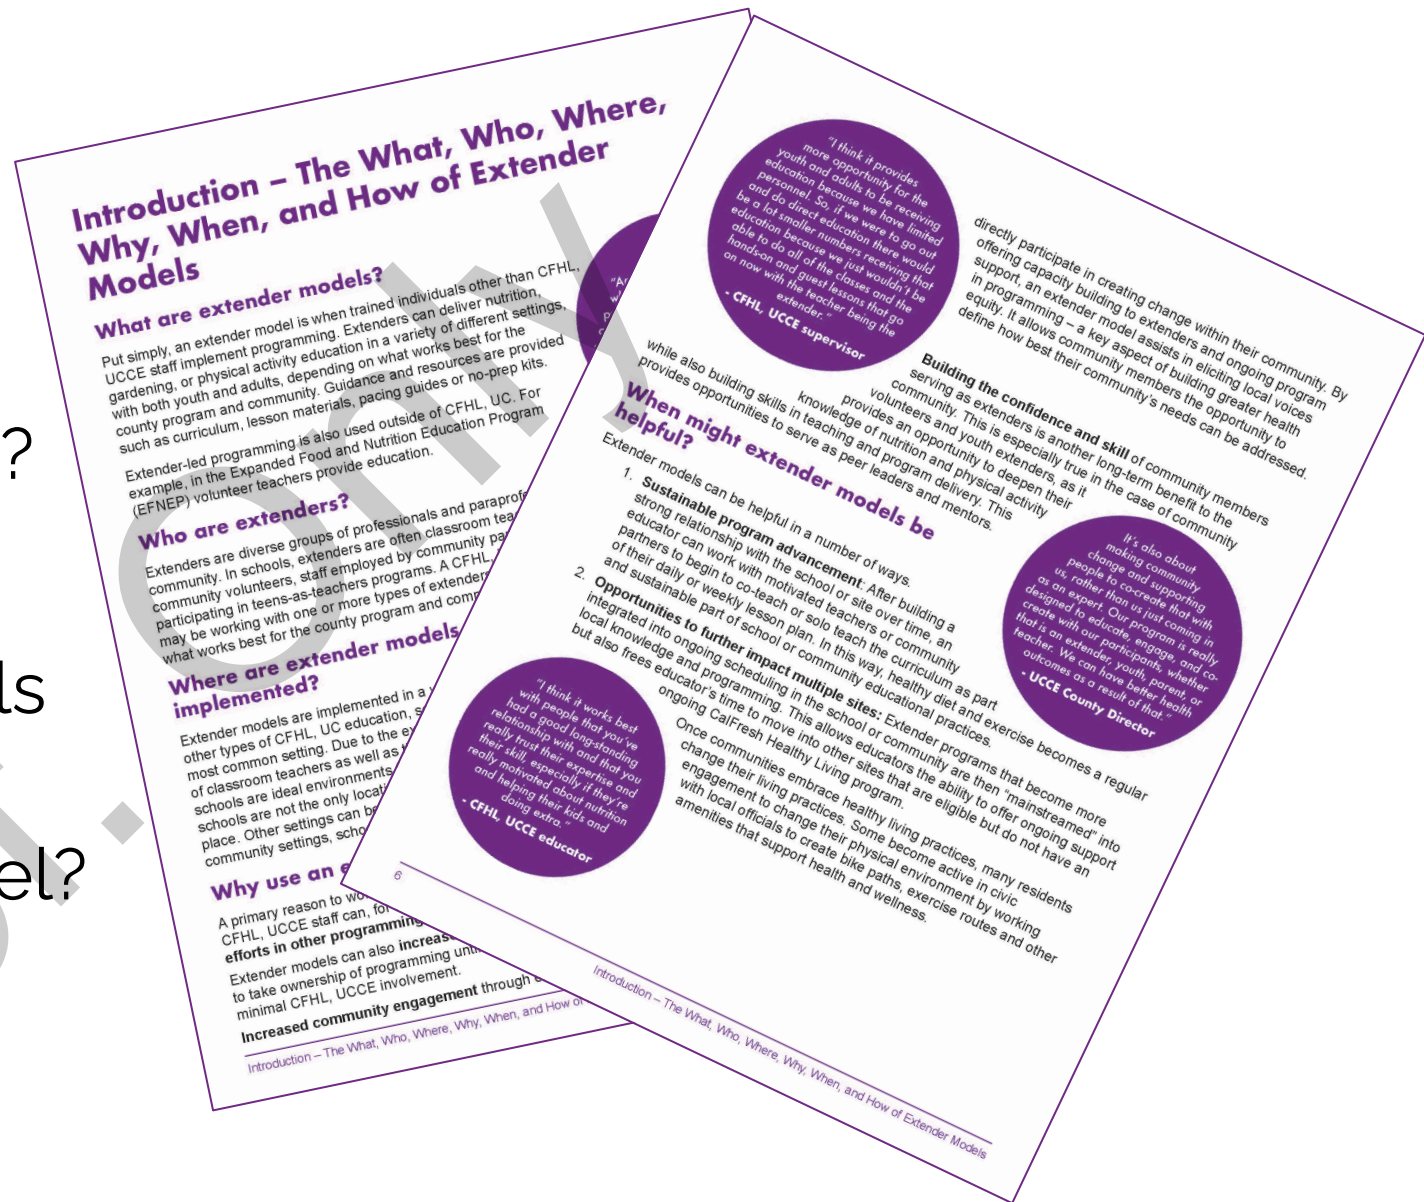

What is this guide? What's in it?

- Share the variety of ways CHFL, UC extends programming to community
- Developed based on a series of interviews with counties about how they implement extender programs
- Covers how to get started, training, supporting extenders during implementation, and reporting and evaluation

Introduction

- What are extender models?
- Who are extenders?
- Where are extender models implemented?
- Why use an extender model?
- When might an extender model be useful?

Getting Started

- Identifying Potential Partners
- Planning
- Communicating Expectations, Roles, and Responsibilities
 - Case Study - Communicating Roles, Responsibilities, and Expectations with Extenders
- Identifying Appropriate Curriculum

Getting Started

Identifying Potential Partners

When getting started, it may be helpful to think about your current school and community partners. Interviews conducted with counties/clusters implementing extender models highlighted strength of relationships with community partners as a key component to success. Consider current school and community partners where you have a strong presence and relationships to help get extender-led programming started on the right foot.

It's especially important to find the right "fit" for extender programming when starting out rather than forcing it. Understanding the partner's interests and tying programming to school or site goals and overall messaging can help generate buy-in and increase sustainability.

Once potential partners have been identified, the next step is to recruit extenders. These may be teachers or site leaders that have already expressed an interest, or are currently receiving CFHL, UCCE educator-led lessons. Methods that have been used to recruit extenders include:

- Discussing extender models with a district's superintendent or school site's principal before actively recruiting school teachers, students, educators, or volunteers.
- Maintaining strong relationships with current extenders, which can generate positive word-of-mouth about the program within the school or site. This can be supported by an active presence at the site, such as through the delivery of CFHL, UCCE education and participation in school or site events. This spreads the word about health & wellness.
- Presenting the benefits of extender programming at staff meetings. While benefits will vary based on the site and community, they may include:
 - Supporting local school wellness policy initiatives
 - Expanding nutrition and physical activity education to reach more students
 - Involving the community in improving health
 - Highlighting how early intervention can reduce obesity and chronic disease rates
- Approaching potential extenders directly and offering to co-teach. Let potential extenders know what they are expected to do and what support they will receive by clarifying expectations and commitment upfront.

After extenders have been recruited, have them complete the Teacher Extender Enrollment Form.

Planning

While some planning will likely begin in advance of confirming extenders, a best practice is to involve the extender in the planning process. Begin the planning process early - this includes scheduling, materials, and resources. If working with schools, it may be helpful to meet with the principal early in planning before extenders have been recruited. If funding and resources permit, create a plan for continual material support, such as lesson kits or packets (see below section "Supporting Extenders During Implementation" for more information). In addition to the logistics of lesson delivery, also plan for collecting evaluation and other reporting data and assessing curriculum fidelity.

During the novel coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic, the Early Childhood Education (ECE) COVID-19 Workgroup created a suggested list of follow-up questions for interested teachers/extendors, available via Box, that may help with planning. While these questions were designed primarily for use in ECE sites during distance learning, the majority can apply to all extender-led education.

Getting Started

Roles, and Responsibilities

From the start, so there is no confusion and no extender is more independent and have support from you. Expectations, roles and basis. In any situation, working with the extender is more likely to be successful.

Relationship between the extender and educator? How is the extender's role defined?
